SCHEDULE II

PROCEDURE FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION

[Sec Reg. 44(i)]

Where disciplinary action is to be taken against an employee under Regulation 44, the following procedure shall be followed.

I. INVESTIGATION

2. When the competent authority receives any information or a report indicating that an employee has committed a misconduct, he may cause an investigation to be carried out to ascertain whether there is a case for further action, unless he is satisfied that a prima facie case exists against the employee concerned in which case, the competent authority may dispense with such investigation and proceed to issue or authorise the issuance of a charge sheet to the employee concerned (para 4).

3. The investigation when conducted should be brief and should conclude as soon as it is clear that there is a prima facie case or that the allegation is groundless. If during such investigation the person admits guilt or default on his part such admission should be recorded in the presence of and signed by the employee concerned.

II. CHARGE SHEET

4. If the competent authority is satisfied on receiving information or report as mentioned in para 2 above or a report of investigation as mentioned in para 3 that a prima facie case exists for taking disciplinary action against the employee, the latter should be served with a written charge sheet clearly and specifically setting forth the alleged misconduct. The employee charged should be given a reasonable time (not less than 48 hours) to submit his written explanation and asked whether he desires to be heard in person.

III. ENQUIRY

5(i) Should the employee so charged ask to be heard in person or should his written explanation be considered not satisfactory or should his written explanation disclose other facts which require an enquiry, the Authority shall appoint an Enquiry Committee for the purpose of enquiring into the charges.

5(ii) If, however, the employee admits in writing the misconduct alleged against him, the Enquiry Committee may not be constituted and the Authority competent to impose punishment under Regulation 43B may proceed to pass an order of punishment under Regulation 43.

6. The Enquiry Committee may comprise of one or more officers, one of whom must be a representative of the Department to which the charged employee belongs. The Enquiry Committee must be constituted in writing in such a manner that the member/members appointed to hold the enquiry is/are always in a grade higher than that of the person charged. In cases where the Committee consists of more than one person, it should be indicated in the order as to who will be its convenor.

7. The employee charged should be informed in writing of the date and time when the enquiry will be held and be asked to attend, and further informed that if he fails to attend the enquiry or attending it refuses to take part in it the enquiry will proceed ex-parte. He should be also informed that at such enquiry he shall be entitled to be defended by an employee of the Department in which he works, except in the case of Outstations where he may be defended by any employee of the Corporation employed at that Outstation.

8. The employee charged, along with the person permitted to defend him, will be entitled to be present during the hearing of witnesses. Should the person charged fail to attend the enquiry or attending it refuses to take part in it, the enquiry should proceed ex-parte.

9. When the Enquiry Committee commences its work, the person charged will be asked to state if he has anything further to say beyond what has been already submitted in his written explanation. Any such statement should be recorded in writing and signed by the person charged.

Witnesses.

10. The following witnesses shall thereafter be examined or cross-examined, as the case may be, by the Committee.

- (a) Those upon whose testimony, the charge was based;
- (b) Those whom the charged employee may bring forward as witnesses in his defence. The person charged will be required to indicate the points on which such witnesses will give evidence and it is open to the Enquiry Committee, on scrutinising the list, where it appears to be vexatious or frivolous, to restrict the number of witnesses only to those whose evidence is relevant and material to the points of enquiry;
- (c) Any other persons whose evidence being relevant the Committee considers it necessary to record.

11. The statement made by each witness shall be succinctly recorded by the Committee and will be signed by the witness and counter-signed by the person charged. It is not necessary to write down questions and answers except where absolutely necessary on a crucial point, where the admission or denial must be recorded verbatim. If the person upon whose evidence the charge was based happens to be a member of the Enquiry Committee, the person charged will be entitled to cross-examine him as witness and the enquiry proceedings shall not be called in question because of the fact that a member of the said Committee is so cross-examined.

12. When a witness comes before the Enquiry Committee, he should be asked to make a statement of facts within his knowledge relating to the charge. The person charged shall be entitled to cross-examine such a witness, but the witness will not be permitted to cross-examine the person charged. The person charged can be examined only by the Enquiry Committee. If on the evidence given by a witness, the Enquiry Committee wishes to examine the person charged, this may be done but not in the presence of the witness who has made the statements. That witness can be recalled later, if necessary. The person charged will also be given an opportunity to examine his witness in his defence.

Final Statement.

13. After all the evidence which is necessary and relevant for the purposes of enquiry has been recorded, the person charged shall be given further opportunity of making a final statement in his defence should he desire to do so. This statement should be recorded in writing and signed by the person charged. In case the person charged or any witness refuses to sign his statement or deposition, that fact should be recorded in the enquiry proceedings.

Report of the Enquiry Committee

14. The Committee of Enquiry should formulate its report in the following order :

- (i) charges contained in the charge sheet
- (ii) summary of the evidence recorded
- (iii) analysis of evidence and Enquiry Committee's observations thereon.
- (iv) findings in respect of each of the charges and reasons for arriving at these findings.

IV. ORDER BY COMPETENT AUTHORITY

15. The competent authority on receiving the report of the Enquiry Committee shall satisfy itself as to the correctness of the findings by giving its independent attention to the weightage of evidence both for and against the charges. Where the authority agrees with the findings of the Enquiry Committee, it is not necessary for it to give reasons for the acceptance of the report, but where it disagrees, it shall record the reasons for such disagreement. The Competent Authority shall thereafter issue an order of punishment. In awarding punishment, the authority shall take into consideration the extent and gravity of the misconduct, previous service record of the person charged and any extenuating or aggravating circumstances of the case.

V. GENERAL

16. In a case where an appeal lies and the person charged requests for a copy of the Enquiry Committee's Report and/or enquiry proceedings to enable him to prefer an appeal, the Competent Authority shall supply him with a copy of the Enquiry Committee's report and/or with a copy of the enquiry proceedings. Similarly, at a request of the person charged, the Enquiry Committee shall during the course of the enquiry also supply him with a copy of the enquiry proceedings i.e., statements recorded before the Enquiry Committee.

17. It is important that an investigation and/or enquiry into an irregularity or misconduct be completed within the shortest possible time.
